What People Are Saying

There has been no other decision that had caused us as much consternation as deciding with whom to entrust the safety, well-being, and nurturing of our 18 month old son. I cannot say enough GREAT things about MRA. The staff is knowledgeable, kind, caring and very educated. Our children blossomed in ways I couldn't have dreamed!

MRA was our first pick amongst montessori pre-schools we were looking at. We found MRA to be different with the Reggio Emilia approach on top of being a Montessori school. This is our child first pre-school, and there is no better choice. Not only does MRA have a good environment, but it also cultivates a positive philosophy towards caring for and teaching children. The teachers here are also nothing short of amazing.

Since we started taking our daughter to daycare, the MRA team has been nothing but helpful and loving towards her. She has been learning so many new skills and has benefited from her time at MRA.

I couldn't be any happier with my choice of enrolling my two year old daughter into MRA. My only regret is not doing it sooner. This is all

WHAT TO KNOW ABOUT

Language Studies

Research-backed language methods

At Montessori Reggio Academy®, we recognize the significance of a multilingual environment for young learners. That's why we incorporate Spanish, Mandarin, and American Sign Language into our curriculum using our proven and effective language immersion techniques.

Maria Montessori believed this is the sensitive period for language development. During this critical window, children effortlessly absorb spoken language, refining it between ages three and six. Children are capable of learning multiple languages concurrently while adeptly speaking and comprehending several languages simultaneously.

Creating a language-rich environment

Environmental factors significantly influence learning, thus fostering a language-rich setting is crucial for teaching foreign languages. Techniques we utilize at MRA include labeling objects with foreign words, utilizing visual aids, and introducing foreign language music and literature.

MRA's comprehensive approach

Here at MRA, we advocate for holistic learning, incorporating immersion, hands-on activities, and self-directed learning. Children receive structured language lessons while also experiencing immersion instruction, allowing them to freely communicate in either language spoken by teachers and encouraging their use throughout the day.

Why Spanish, Mandarin, & ASL?

In addition to English, learning Spanish, Mandarin, and American Sign Language (ASL) offers proven benefits to students. In our increasingly interconnected world, multilingualism is an asset. Proficiency in the world's most widely spoken languages broadens children's opportunities in the present and future. Excelling in multiple languages improves communication and enables students to engage with a wider spectrum of individuals.
